Statement of Support

Sterling Lexicon is proud to present our 2021 Communication on Progress Report.

This report confirms our continued commitment to supporting the ten principles of the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC), and its vision to mobilise a global movement of sustainable companies and stakeholders to create the world we want.

2021 was another challenging year. The uncertain global recovery from COVID-19, along with societal, economic and, political shifts, highlighted the fragility of our world, its infrastructure, and its communities. This emphasised the critical need of working together as a global community to address the UNGC's ten principles of human rights, labour, environment, and anti-corruption.

Sterling Lexicon has successfully supported our clients and their assignees, as well as each other, through these uncertain times. We continue to look forward and remain adaptable to develop opportunities for a more sustainable and inclusive world of work.

Sterling Lexicon's Environment, Social and Governance programme is not an isolated initiative at Sterling Lexicon, it is integrated into our culture, strategy, and business decisions.

I am grateful to our teams around the world for living our values of Caring, Teamwork, Innovation, Agility, and Trust every day, to make a difference in the communities in which we live and work.

As our teams focus on delivering our Vision 2025 strategy, we will continue to develop our programme with an emphasis on the principles of the UNGC, making certain it engages our people and delivers real, tangible results, ensuring the greatest possible impact.

Create Equity Across All Types of Cross-Border Moves

Make all your international job opportunities inclusive

Every organisation in the industry has a different way of enhancing diversity. While still striving for DEI outcomes, the global mobility teams that have created equitable career opportunities through various programs and services, help employees recognize that a wide range of options in changing the global job and that roles from diverse backgrounds or a profession and diverse experiences in the workplace matter.

Benefits of Equitable Global Mobility
It is well documented that being diverse is associated with a better range of self-actualization, to name a few. The Global Business Review has been identified as a host of benefits, such as psychological well-being, the ability to cope with stress, and job performance. It is well known that increasing multicultural, whether in-person or virtual, having cross-border job experience helps build trust, loyalty, and more awareness of business communication skills, adding valuable skills to the business.

As most organisations recognize the value to the employer - as well as employee - of international experience, companies are creating new programs to attract cross-border talent.

Sharing our industry insights and communicating trends to help our network ensure their policies are optimised for equity and inclusion.

Our People

Investing in training our employees so they are the best at what they do

Training and development is a vital part of growth, not just for Sterling Lexicon, but for all our employees. All employees are given the necessary support to:

- Develop the knowledge, skills and attitude they require to carry out their jobs effectively
- To prepare them for changes that affect their roles and tasks
- To equip them to meet the challenges and demanding objectives which are articulated in the company's business plan
- Release creativity and enable them to realise their potential

Our People

Protecting our people, clients and suppliers during the COVID-19 pandemic

Sterling Lexicon's Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery Plan ensured our business was fully prepared to continue across all of our service lines.

As local governments rolled out executive orders to restrict the movement of people, we quickly adapted moving all employees to work from home if they were able to. We increased IT support and saw no disruptions to customer service standards.

Our Environmental Health & Safety (EHS) teams, in coordination with our COVID-19 taskforce coordinated initiatives to protect our people, clients and suppliers.

Our EHS team connects directly with Department of Health offices to ensure our business practices are aligned with current health recommendations.

Measures taken during the COVID-19 pandemic include:

Good Hygiene Practices

Updated training materials and supplies shared across the organisation and to our supplier network

Health and Risk Questionnaire

Implemented to assess risk exposure; determine next steps in line with current legislation

Phased Back to Work Plan

Supporting employees in the transition back into the office, helping employees feel safe and comfortable

To update our teams on the risks COVID-19 presents, we redesigned our Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) programmes.

Business Conduct and Ethics

Today's business environment is complex, and our own industry has seen many changes in recent years. Throughout these transitions, one core Sterling Lexicon belief has remained constant: maintaining our good name and protecting our client's brands. We know this rests on each individual taking personal responsibility for their conduct.

Ethics and Compliance Hotline

Sterling Lexicon utilises Navex Global for our 24/7, confidential compliance telephone and web-based hotline. A reporting tool for employees, suppliers and clients to report a good faith concern regarding fraud, abuse, waste or other misconduct.

Anti-Bribery and Corruption

Sterling Lexicon is committed to complying with all anti-corruption laws, regulations, and restrictions mandated by the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, the UK Bribery Act, the Criminal Finance Act and other laws that govern corrupt practices, including bribery.

We take our obligations seriously and conduct robust supply chain due diligence.

We don't offer or accept bribes from third parties to win business or influence business decisions anywhere in the world.

Human Rights

Sterling Lexicon supports human rights across the world. We provide reasonable working conditions and fair wages and will not use child or forced labour.

We don't tolerate or condone human trafficking or slavery and we expect the same from our business partners.

Responsible Procurement

Sterling Lexicon requires all members of our supply chain to comply with all applicable laws and regulations, hold the relevant accreditation where possible and agree to implement innovative systems designed to minimise and reduce the negative impact of their operations on the environment.

Environmental Initiatives

Wherever possible, Sterling Lexicon partners with suppliers who are committed to supporting our environmental initiatives with their own eco-friendly practices, for example:

- Our global rental furniture provider only supply's durable products manufactured to high standards that can be used several times, reducing waste. When a product does come to the end of its rental life, furniture is sold in a secondhand outlet and not sent to landfill
- Our global assignee car leasing/rental provider offers assignees hybrid and electric car choices through their EcoRide initiative
- Our short-term accommodation provider travels by company electric car where possible

Responsible Procurement

Governance and Compliance

Sterling Lexicon utilise Jaggaer, a third party procurement platform, to vet all supplier's governance compliance processes

Ongoing Monitoring

Sterling Lexicon also utilises Navex Risk Rate, a third party programme built around the requirements of the FCPA, UK Bribery Act, OFAC and related laws and regulations

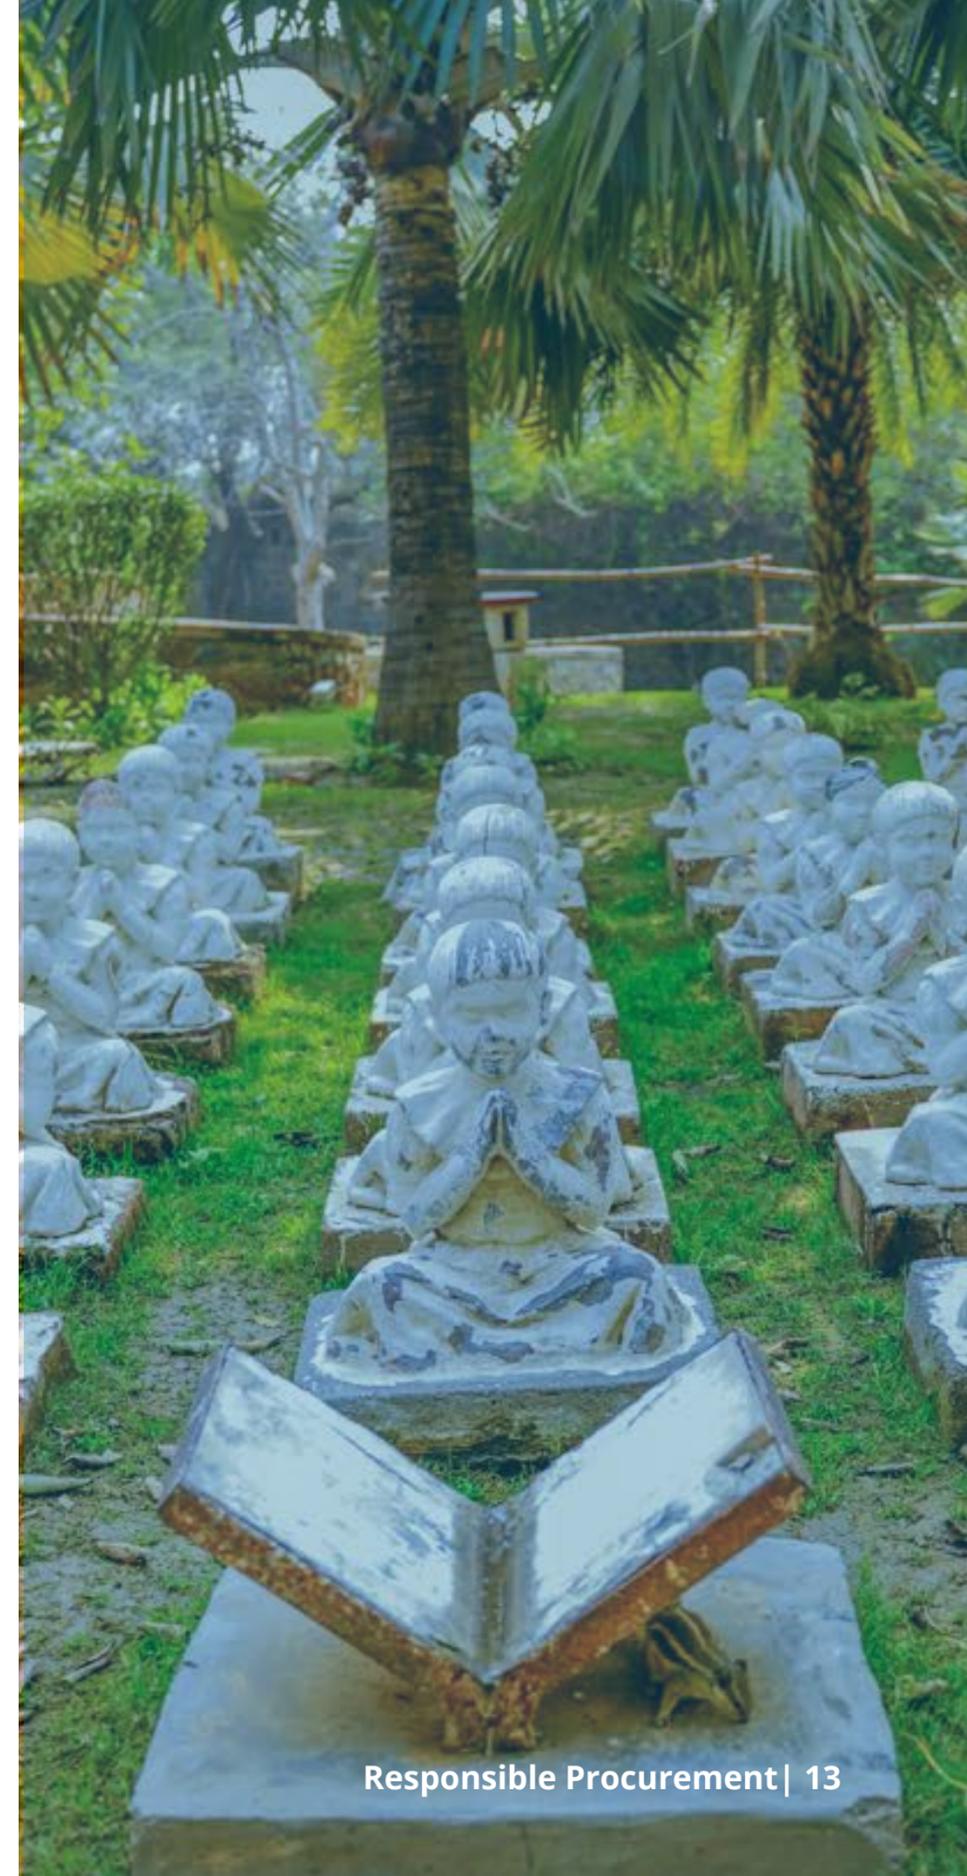

Code of Conduct

It is a mandatory requirement that all suppliers adhere to our Supplier Code of Conduct, confirming they will follow Sterling Lexicon's ethical business requirements

Data Protection Agreement

It is a mandatory requirement that all suppliers sign our Data Protection Agreement, adhere to Sterling Lexicon's data protection and GDPR requirements

Next steps

A key step in meeting our environmental, social and governance responsibilities is to commit to continuous improvement across all of our focus areas, and align our ESG objectives with our Vision 2025.

By maintaining a focus on our key objectives, Sterling Lexicon will deliver the following key actions in 2022.

Being a responsible business, we are focusing on highlighting those Sustainable Development Goals where we can have the biggest impact through our business activities, employee experience and community programmes.

Key Objectives for 2022
